MANNINGTON'S NEW INTRODUCTIONS CONTINUE TO STRENGTHEN COMPANY'S TILE OFFERING

January 28, 2008 – Mannington continues to create innovative and unique porcelain tile patterns, signaling the company's commitment to the category. Most recently, Mannington introduced Tempest, Del Norte, and Vera Cruz – three looks that offer the consumer a range of options in design as well as price point.

Tempest is a whirlwind of bold and vibrant shades that interpret the excitement and beauty of nature. Designed to evoke the magnificent allure of natural sandstone, it's available in Sangria Sunset, a palette of green, brown, and red; Brownstone, a composition of browns and tiny hints of red and yellow; Sand Dune, an earthy beige with a wind blown appearance, and Granite Coast, a cool, stormy gray. This collection is complete with a variety of sizes and trims to balance floor, wall, and countertop applications.

Del Norte, a stylish yet affordable marble visual, is available in three alluring colors: Walnut, Mineral Gray, and Oyster White. This glazed porcelain tile is offered in a 13"x13" and 18"x18" field tile. Del Norte also includes a 2"x2" mosaic decorative tile (mesh-mounted on 13"x13" sheets) and a 3"x13" bullnose trim.

Responding to increasing demand for an entry-level tile option, Mannington's glazed ceramic series Vera Cruz has a natural sandstone visual with delicate texturing that provides a level of sophistication. The neutral yet contemporary color palette coordinates aptly with any home décor. In Beige, Noce, and Sage, Vera Cruz fits a range of styles, from the polished pastoral to a contemporary chic. All three colors are available in the following sizes: 13"x13"; 18"x18" and 3"x13" bullnose.

These three lines work together as an attractive trade-up package that work well for both retailers and builders, and they are all now available.
